Subject: auction restarted - new end date

Folks,

I apologize for the problems with the auction. It appears that the recent changes our programmer made were not compatible with the hoster. This resulted in gradual memory loss until a crash now matter how many times we restarted.

The problems were fixed and the auction was started. The auction will now close on Wednesday, the 23rd.

Please take a look at

www.mineral-auctions.com

Thanks,

Keith

ps, Send me an email at kqhayes@earthlink.net if you wish to stop receiving emails and be removed from the auction registration list.
