Subject: New Auction posted

Hello David:

I have posted a second "special" auction with 20 specimens located at:

<http://auction1.mineral-auctions.com/index.php>

This is in addition to the multi dealer auction running concurrently at:

<http://auction2.mineral-auctions.com/index.php>

The new auction is open for bidding now and will be starting to close on September 19th at 8:00 PM CDT (20:00).

Early in October, I will be conducting a special auction for the benefit of Rocks & Minerals Magazine in order to help generate funds to offset the high cost of color printing. There will be a special announcement about that auction later in this month.

If you would like to be deleted from the mineral-auctions.com mailing list and have your registration removed simply reply with the word remove to this note.

Thank you for your interest,

John Veevaert
