

Webmineral Advertiser

Dave Barthelmy

---

From: Kevin Ward [kward@themineralgallery.com]
Sent: Friday, December 29, 2006 12:20 AM
To: The Mineral Gallery 2
Subject: *** Mineral Auction #109 is Open! ***

Greetings!

I'm pleased to announce the opening of Mineral Auction #109!

Like Auction #108, this auction features a new look with 28 beautiful mineral specimens with opening bids at wholesale and BELOW wholesale levels! This means starting bids which average 40 - 50% off the original website prices and some even lower. And these are high quality mineral specimens, not starter quality items that one commonly sees in online mineral auctions. Each specimen is listed with its online description, original website price, minimum opening bid, and minimum increment. Once again, there are no maximum increments so place your best bid and keep an eye on the auction until the close. My two main goals for this auction are for everyone to have fun and for every specimen to find a new home.

To take part in the auction, simply click the bidding button and submit your best offer along with your city and state (country). You will be notified once your bid has been received.

Auction 109 is located here! <http://www.exceptionalminerals.com/auction.htm>

Also, this is the final weekend for the 50% off Tucson 2003 sale. On January 1st I will be closing these rooms off for good. To visit these rooms and take advantage of the huge discounts, follow this link: <http://www.exceptionalminerals.com/tucson2003.htm>

Thanks again for a great 2006 and best wishes for a prosperous 2007!

Kevin

<http://www.themineralgallery.com> <http://www.exceptionalminerals.com>

End Message