Subject: New Gold Specimens from Round Mountain

Greetings:

This past March I was invited to visit the Round Mountain Gold mine to participate in a sealed bid auction. This is the first time that gold from this active mine was made directly available to mineral dealers. I submitted bids on eight lots in all and I was quite surprised and pleased to find out that I was the high bidder on one of the 56 lots that were available. It turned out to be one of the good ones even though the majority of them were very good. There is a fair number of specimens that are electrum in terms of composition in this group.
