Subject:  Huge Tucson Mineral Sale! **

Greetings!

Now that the summer updates are online and the Denver show is rapidly approaching, I'm taking advantage of the slow summer months and once again reorganizing the website. The Tucson 2004 mineral rooms have been sold out and eliminated and now I'm planning on closing out the more recent Tucson 2005 mineral rooms as well. The 27 rooms which comprise the Tucson 2005 updates have been compressed into 14 rooms of great looking mineral specimens which need to find new homes. This is why I've decided to offer the same discount I offered last year on the 2003 specimens....

From now until the Denver mineral show, all Tucson 2005 specimens are going to be discounted a whopping 40% off the listed website prices! I don't offer discounts of this size very often so I hope everyone takes advantage of this opportunity and grabs a specimen or two for their collection. The last time I ran a sale of this magnitude, I sold nearly every specimen and many went quickly in the first week so please don't hesitate. As with the prior sale, large orders from dealers are very welcome. If you're a dealer and would like to purchase the entire stock of these rooms, let me know and we'll work out a package deal.

The Tucson 2005 Mineral Sale begins here:

To see all the rooms in the sale, simply click through using the link at the bottom of each page!

On a side note, Mineral Auction #112 is counting down to its final four days and will close on Monday, August 6th. As is usual with a summer auction, there are still many specimens listed at huge discounts and no opening bids! Check it out!

The auction can found using this link: <http://www.exceptionalminerals.com/auction.htm>

Best wishes,

Kevin
