Subject:  Mineral Auction 112 Closes Tomorrow! **

This is the final notice that Mineral Auction #112 will begin to close tomorrow evening (Monday, August 6th) at 8 PM central time / 6 PM pacific.

Looking over the auction a day before its close, I see a large number of items without opening bids. I also see great bargains on the items with only one or two bids. Summer auctions are usually the best for bargain hunting because they are generally the slowest and least attended. If you haven't visited the auction yet, now is the best time to do so and place a bid or two. If you've already placed a bid, you may want to revisit and and make final adjustments if necessary before tomorrow night's close.

The huge 40% mineral sale in the Tucson 2005 rooms is going strong and will continue until the Denver show or until I run out of mineral specimens in the rooms. The sale prices are listed next to the items which have sold and a quick comparison will show just how large the discounts really are!

The Tucson 2005 Mineral Sale begins here:

And make certain you don't overlook the Tucson 2006 mineral rooms which are 30% off!

Thanks again and good luck to all auction participants!

Kevin
