Subject: Greenside Minerals - Books for Sale

Hi,

Greenside Minerals is pleased to offer a specially selected range of books covering various aspects of mineralogy, mining and more general Earth science subjects. Over the coming weeks and months we will add to our range of titles as we also continue to add more minerals to our collection. Most of the books will be newly published titles but we will also be offering previously owned, sometimes hard-to-obtain and rarer, titles.

Currently our books will only be available to customers with a UK delivery address. This is because the high cost of shipping overseas would make our prices uncompetitive. However, if you are not in the UK and see a title you really want, that isn't available in your country, please email us and we may be able to sort something out.

Regards,

Gary Atkinson
