Subject: Excalibur Mineral List #20801 Ready!

Greetings All,

Happy New Year from frigid N.Y.! Our first list for the year is in the attached Word document, and it includes our typical assortment of new species, oddities, type locality specimens and miscellaneous "stuff" for your collecting enjoyment.

As usual, all specimens are FOB our warehouse and are offered on a first-come, first-served basis, and our mention of new species names is confidential for our clients only, and they are not to be distributed, excepted, published or posted to websites or other communication media without our expressed written consent.

With only a five day backlog at the moment, orders from this list will begin to ship sometime next week. A special reminder: January's issue of Mineral News will be greatly expanded and in full color, a first! If you are not a subscriber, do so now: just $25 per year USA, $56 overseas.

Hope you have a great 2008, and we look forward to hearing from you!
