Hi there,

As usual to let you know Auction 189 is closing later today at 23:00Hrs UK Time

Auction 191 starts at 18:30Hrs UK Time; it is just being completed now.

Some new features have been added to the site, some more will come next week.

So Far: On the Home Page:

1. We have a new "Hot Items" section below the live Auctions panel.

This shows the current 5 most viewed auction items, click the toggle and you will see the 5 most bid on.

2. We have added some better legends to the sort bars in each of the listings

3. Sellers can select their items that have not met their reserve* to be listed on a special "Seller Reserve Page" after the auction closes.

The listings will be at their reserve price with a BUY NOW option available IMMEDIATELY the auction closes. This page link will appear on the Home Page when there are available items.

*Note it is up to the Seller to make this offer and not all specimens will be selected; by default items with a "No Reserve" start price of $10 will not be available on this page!

More information about the changes will appear on the website shortly

Best Wishes
Mark Wrigley
