Subject: * The Exceptional Mineral Auction Closes Tomorrow! *

Once again, it's almost time to wrap up another great mineral auction!

The current running Exceptional Mineral Auction will close on Monday, July 21st, at 8 PM central time / 9 PM eastern. There won't be a staggered close this time around so all final bids need to be in place by 8 PM sharp, with your maximums listed just in case you are overbid at the last second.

The link to the mineral auction is located here:

Special Note: As with most summer auctions, this auction has been a little on the slow side, but this has presented some excellent last minute bargains for the taking. Many of the finest items in the auction are still in need of a bid or offer (including a Sweet Home Rhodochrosite!) and those items with bids are still very, very low in price. If you haven't visited the auction, now is a great time to drop in and grab some incredible buys. If you've already placed a bid, you may want to check and adjust your bid if needed. I'd like to see every auction specimen find a new home so please take advantage of the wholesale bid levels.

Good luck to all during the close!

Kevin
