Subject: * * The Keystone Mineral Sale - Update #3! * *

Greetings!

I'm finally getting caught up with all orders from the Keystone Mineral Sale and if you haven't received your package, it will be arriving very soon. Now that I have a chance to catch my breath, I'm going to sweeten the sale just a bit here in week #3.

Announcing Round #3 of the Keystone Mineral Sale!

In the first two weeks of the sale, over a dozen flats of specimens have found new homes. I still have an enormous number available so I'm going to add additional new items to the sale rooms and also make the following offer...

For every three specimens purchased at half price, I will discount the order an additional 10%!

If you purchase six or more specimens, I will discount the order an additional 15%!

I'm pretty much giving the items away at these price levels but I still need to reduce inventory before my upcoming move. Please take advantage of these huge discounts and use them to build your collection. Here is the direct link to the mineral sale...

Thanks again!
