We have just added 45 new specimens of barite from the Linwood Mine in Iowa. This find was made late last summer. These are easily some of the finest examples of barite ever seen from this location, or anywhere else in the midwest United States. The pocket was quite neat - all of the specimens were floaters and the crystals at the base of each piece are all filled with sand inclusions. Many of the crystals are gem quality.

Look for us in Tucson - now in Three Locations! Inn Suites Lobby (wholesale), Westward Look Show(top specimens), Convention Center - Main Show.
