Hi All,

I am really pleased to announce that we have cleared up the server problems, and launched the latest revision of our software.

You should now see a difference in page speeds and less congestion at auction close time.

Because of the server problems we have reorganised our current auction start and close schedule so that there is a fair chance to bid.

You can see all of these on the e-Rocks Homepage.

So onto the latest updates

1. Auction 292 closes on Today at 23:00Hrs UK Time
2. Auction 294 has also just started

Correct End times are posted on all auctions,

We will have more on line very soon!

Best Wishes
Mark Wrigley
