New specimens have been added to the website

Also a reminder that the auctions are closing tonight at 7 p.m. eastern standard time. There are 75 great specimens currently available. Some of the highlights include:

- * many neat rare species
- * a beautiful aquamarine matrix piece
- * a showy tourmaline/lepidolite from Brazil
- * neat Tsumeb cerussite; well crystallized copper from Zambia
- * choice old-time Joplin calcite
- * Arizona linarite
- * a pretty emerald crystal from Colombia
- * superb Idaho pyromorphite thumbnail
- * gemmy yellow scapolite
- * large Franklin zincite

Plus many, many other great specimens!

We are still very busy preparing the Tate collection for sale. It should be ready by November 16. A large update to the website will soon follow after this date.

As always, we welcome your comments and suggestions.
