Subject: * Update - Current Mineral Auction Closes Soon! *

The Best Offer Auction Closes Thursday!

There are only three more days until the Best Offer Mineral Auction comes to a close and there are still many specimens which need starting bids or offers. I welcome offers on all items so give it a try and see what happens!

 Direct Link to the Auction ***

Note: Our FTP server has been down for the past several days due to new security upgrades and I'm unable to update the auction until this is completed. If you've submitted a bid and it doesn't show, this is the reason why. Rest assured that your bid is in the auction and will be visible once the server is back up and running. Hopefully we'll have everything back to normal by sometime tomorrow afternoon. Good luck to all auction participants!
