The Tucson Auction Closes Tomorrow!

The newest version of the Tucson Show Mineral Auction will be closing tomorrow night (Tuesday) April 23rd at 9 PM central. Now is a great time for participants to check their current bids, make additional bids, or place new bids for the first time. Lots of fine auction specimens are still in need of offers and many others are near their minimum reserve. I hope everyone has a chance to win a beautiful specimen in the current auction.

It's hard to believe, but these specimens still need opening bids!....

Gorgeous Cobaltian Calcite with large individual crystals
Helvite crystals with gemmy Smoky Quartz points
Unique and very aesthetic Elmwood combination plate
Deep pink Morganite specimen from Brazil
HUGE 4.4 cm Alexandrite crystal from Fort Victoria
Museum quality Native Wire Silver from Freiberg
Large plate of fine bi-colored Beryl crystals with Schorl
Rare specimen of Rhodochrosite from the Grizzly Bear Mine
Classic specimen of Crocoite crystals on Limonite from Germany
Impressive halfbreed featuring Silver crystals with Copper from Michigan

Arsenian Pyromorphite from the Bunker Hill Mine
Large Golden Calcite from Pennsylvania and... a Huge 7311 gram Meteorite from Argentina (Circa 1576)

These are some GREAT minerals and they need to find new homes.
Make a bid or offer and they could be on their way to your collection!
