Subject: Weekly Mineral Update tonight

Dakota Matrix Minerals

July 18, 2014

Hi Folks

Just a quick note to let you know our Weekly Update will be tonight at 5pm US Mountain Time. The Daily Five will be released at 4:30PM.

The new additions will include 36 selections from our recently acquired Bill McConlogue collection. Bill lived in Port Ludlow, Washington on the Olympic Peninsula. The collection consists of about 70 flats of minerals from rare species to colorful cabinets specimens. Bill loved type localities and supplemented his collecting with extensive research about the locations for his specimens. He purchased from us throughout the last decade, but also purchased minerals from John Betts, Excalibur, and Dale's Rocks. Bill had good curatorial instincts and prepared detailed 4x3inch labels for each specimen. Each specimen was cataloged and numbered.

We plan to mix these specimens in with Phillips collection pieces as well as new IMA minerals etc throughout the coming months.

This New Addition update is meant to give you a cross-section representation of his collection.

Thank you so much for your business!

Sincerely,

Tom Loomis
