Hi Folks

The Dakota Matrix Minerals website will update tonight , April 10, at 6pm. - US Mountain Time.

In this update, you will see a lot of simple minerals. Not too many fancy ones or rare ones but just basic ones and also a few showy ones.

Lori and I hope all of you are adjusting well to your new routine, while we ride the storm out. Once again we are fortunate to have such a great hobby. We can spend it indoors looking at our minerals or reading a rock book, or better yet buying minerals from Dakota Matrix! Or best yet, get away from everyone and hit the field in search of rocks - or at least pretend to.

Again and again we want to thank you all for your continued interest in our minerals and the show website RockandMineralShows.com.
