New from the John S. White Quartz Collection

I've added more great specimens from the John S. White quartz collection (click here), including water clear crystals from Colombia, a superb lattice quartz from Erongo, curved Colombian crystals, a beautiful Thunder Bay amethyst and many more unique specimens from China, South Africa, Brazil, and the US, among other localities.

As I have been sending these updates out to you, I haven't yet mentioned what a joy it is to be working with the specimens in this collection and I'd like to explain why. John selected each one over many years (almost 30) – of course based upon his own eye for great pieces, but also because so many of these specimens are special, and illustrative of so many different quartz phenomena, also representing a great diversity of localities and mineral environments. It would be impossible to work with these pieces and not learn a lot. I hope you'll have the same experience here on the website as you look through John's quartz collection.

Hope you enjoy the update!

Canadian Dollar

The currency disparity remains in favour of the U.S. dollar these days. My usual reminder - prices on the website are in Canadian dollars (if you are thinking in - or used to browsing online minerals in - US dollar terms).
